

Eucharistic Homily

Twenty-Third Lord's Day after Pentecost

November 17, 2019

Psalm 7 closes with this declaration: "I will give thanks to the Lord according to His righteousness." There's no better way to do that than to feast at the Lord's Table and receive these gifts with thanksgiving and praise.

The Lord's Supper demonstrates the righteousness of God in so many different ways that should fill us with gratitude. This Supper demonstrates the righteousness of God that led Jesus to the cross for the salvation of sinners. This Supper demonstrates the righteousness of God in vindicating Jesus by raising Him from the dead. And this Supper proclaims the righteousness of God that will be realized when Christ comes again and consummates His redemption of the world in the new creation.

If you've been baptized into Christ and are seeking to live faithfully and obediently for Him, you are invited to partake of this feast that our gracious Father has provided for us. These are the gifts of God for the people of God.
