

Eucharistic Homily

Fourth Lord's Day after Pentecost

July 3, 2022

When we come to this Table and eat together, we are confessing that we are united together as one body in Christ and are at peace with God and one another through the shed blood of Jesus. The problem is that our lives don't always adorn this profession as they should.

Is there anything hindering you from fellowship and peace in your marriage, in your family, or in this congregation? Perhaps your own selfishness has suffocated your love for others. Perhaps you're bitter and you refuse to forgive. Perhaps you're too proud to be honest and open with other people.

Jesus died for all that and more so that you can be forgiven, cleansed, healed, and restored. So come in humility and faith to the Table of your Lord. Come and receive His grace and His forgiveness, so that you can share it with the people God has placed in your life.

So all who are baptized and are trusting in Christ for the forgiveness of their sins are welcome to partake of this feast. These are the gifts of God for the people of God.
